Additional generations may be listed on a separate sheet using the above format.

Proof of Eligibility:

For each generation, list the authoritative reference for EACH statement of birth, marriage, and death listed. If you have no proof, leave the space blank. It is important that proofs be included which link each generation to the next. It is permissible to go from the male in one generation to the female in the next.

Type of Proof:

Photocopies of birth, marriage, and death certificates.
Photocopies of printed material, including title page of the book plus numbered pages of the text.
Microfilm copies with reel number, date of the record and name of the library where it was found.
Photocopies of family Bible records, with title page of the Bible.

Courthouse records, including the book and page number. Copies of all the proofs MUST accompany your application. Retain the originals of all material submitted, as the application and copied documents become the property of New Mexico Genealogical Society.

The Primeras Familias de Nuevo Mexico committee will review all applications received. It is the committee's responsibility to make the final decision as to acceptance or rejection of an application.

Fees: This service is available to all members and nonmembers. Fees are nonrefundable. Cost is $15.00 for the first application; $10.00 for each supplemental certificate based on the same verification package. For example, your proof of ancestry may be made to your great-grandparent through one line, and to a great-great-grandparent through another. In this example, an application for two certificates would total $25.00 (the first at $15 and one supplementary at $10). Make check or money order payable to New Mexico Genealogical Society.
