Preface

Fairview Cemetery is located on the west side of Cerrillos Road just south of the New Mexico School for the Deaf at 1134 Cerrillos Road. There are over 3700 burials in Fairview Cemetery of which approximately 1500 are unmarked and not included on this headstone register. The Independent Order of Odd Fellows (I.O.O.F.) Cemetery adjoins Fairview Cemetery on the south and west. The number of burials is unknown but there are many, many more than those shown in this register. Records of these burials cannot be found and are said to have been lost in a fire.

Several phases were involved in the preparation of this register of headstones. In 1975 Mary Brewer, New Mexico Genealogical Society Cemetery Chairman, and volunteer members Sybil Nissen, Carolyn Wright and H. Clifton Wright recorded information from the headstones in Sections A, B, C, D, some of B Front and the I.O.O.F. Cemetery. Later Evelyn Bishop, New Mexico Records Chairman, made corrections and additions to the above sections.

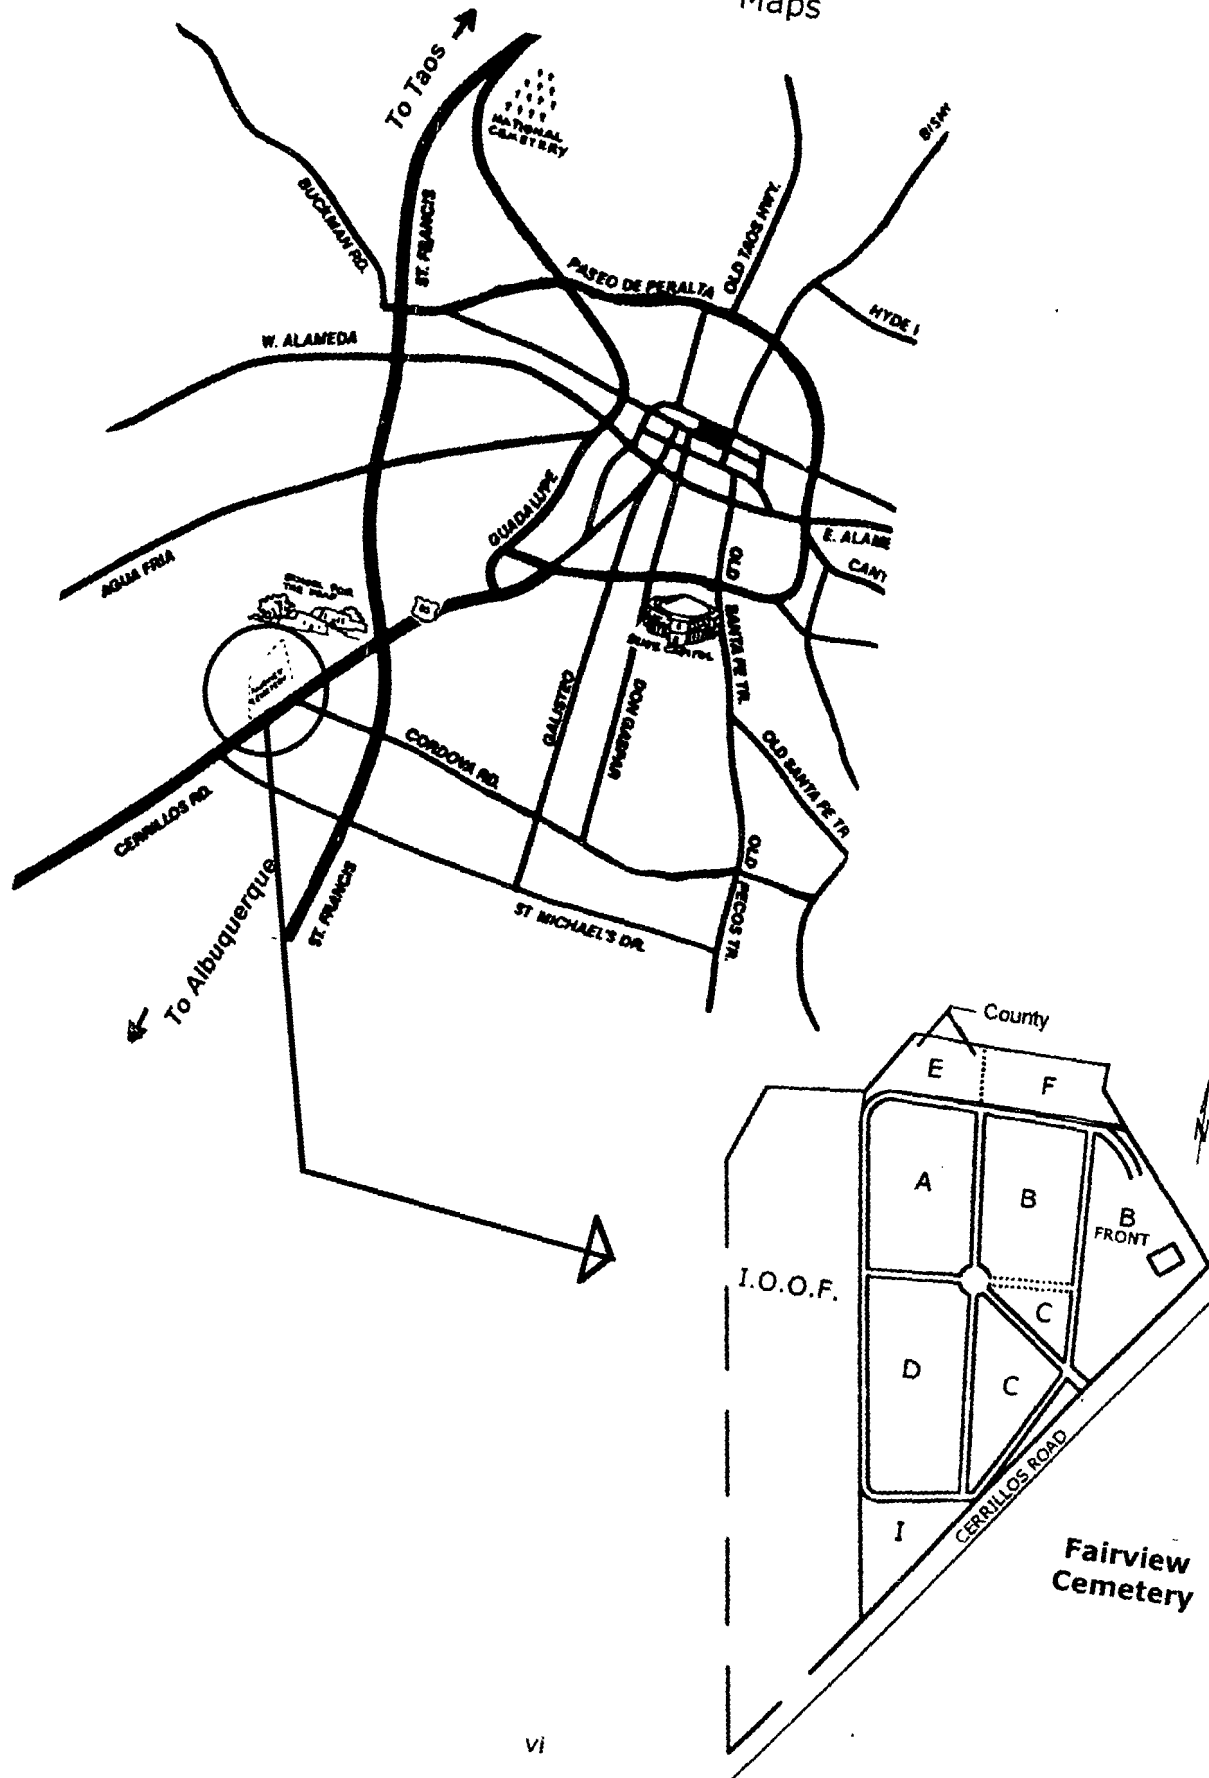

Marian Meyer, a board member of the Santa Fe Historical Society and, later, founder of the Fairview Cemetery Preservation Association, recorded the names on the headstones in the remainder of Section B Front. She also recorded Sections E and F, as well as the Woman's Board of Trade "Free" or "I" Section. Marian and Ann Mossman rechecked the headstones in these sections in 1992. Marian recorded the headstones from 1976-1997 and County burial records were kept by Eppie Romero who handles indigent burials for the County.

Marian placed all names into individual sections and entered them into a computer file that is the source of this register. The sections recorded in the original 1975 inventory remain alphabetical within each section, and the sections recorded later are listed in the order the burials are found in the cemetery. Marian, Ann and Dorothy Brylinski did the final editing and alphabetic indexing of all sections of the register.

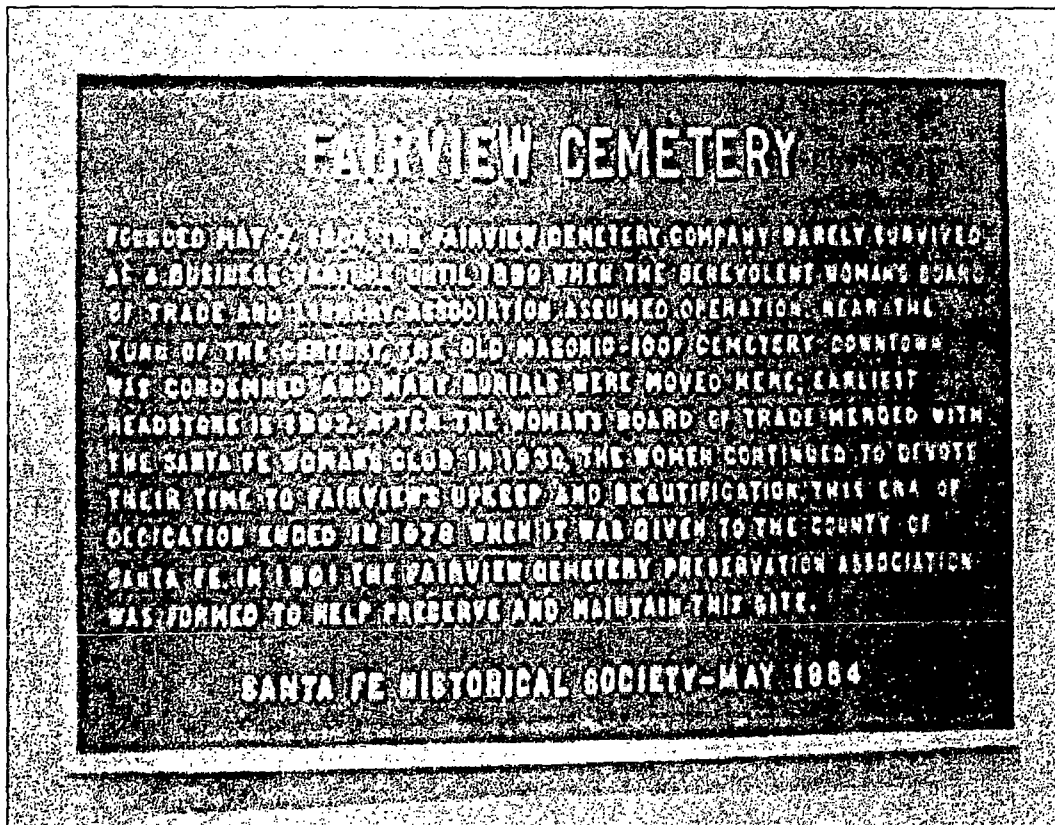

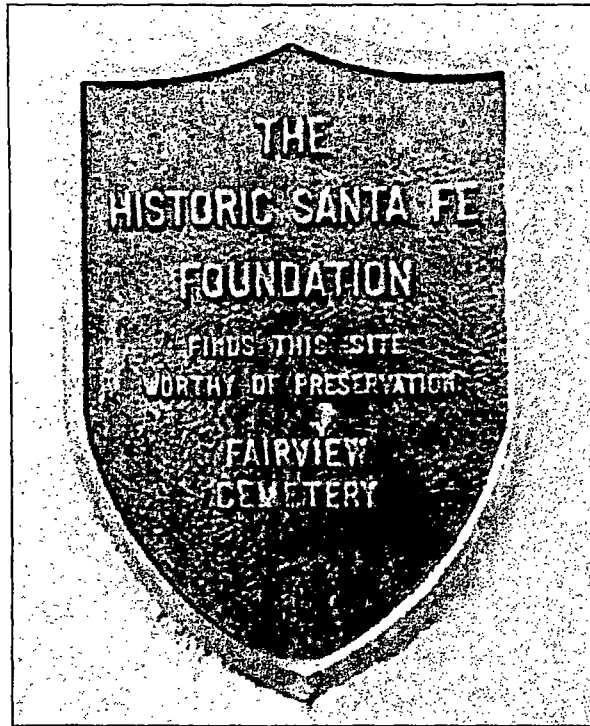

Burials with headstones through December 1997 are included in this list; not included are about 1500 unmarked graves. About 60 burials of unknown persons were moved from the old downtown Masonic/Odd Fellows Cemetery around the turn of the century. The names of known burials without headstones at Fairview Cemetery may be found in Interment Records.

To find a burial not on this headstone list, write to the Fairview Cemetery Preservation Association, P.O. Box 5958, Santa Fe, NM 87502. Interment Records are also located at the New Mexico State Records Center and Archives at 1205 Camino Carlos Rey, Santa Fe, NM 87505.

Both Fairview Cemetery and the I.O.O.F. Cemetery were founded on Cerrillos Road in 1884, but both have much earlier tombstones: Kate Kingsbury at I.O.O.F., 1857 and Catharine Gorman at Fairview, 1862. These are the oldest women's markers in Santa Fe and were among the burials moved from the old Masonic-Odd Fellows Cemetery established in 1854 downtown where the Scottish Rite Temple now stands. That cemetery was condemned near the turn of the century and all the burials that could be found were moved to Fairview, I.O.O.F. or the Santa Fe National Cemetery. The only older markers in Santa Fe are those of a few soldiers at the National Cemetery.

Fairview Cemetery

Fairview was established by Preston H. Kuhn and James T. Newhall as the Fairview Cemetery Company. Max Frost, editor of the "New Mexican" newspaper, was the first President. The Company was formed by selling shares of stock to local business men, but the Company did not prosper. The Woman's Board of Trade, predecessor of the Santa Fe Woman's Club and Library Association, persuaded the men to turn over the operation of the cemetery to them in 1899. The Fairview Cemetery Company retained ownership.

The ladies proved to be extremely efficient in managing the cemetery by getting delinquent taxes annulled and water bills cancelled. Convict labor from the penitentiary was used, illegal interments were dealt with and, above all, the grounds were beautified. Fairview became known as the most beautiful "God's Acre" in New Mexico. It was renowned for its magnificent trees, well-tended lawns and flowering shrubs.

In 1930, the men gave ownership of Fairview Cemetery to the women. When the Woman's Board of Trade merged with the Santa Fe Woman's Club that year, a perpetual care fund was begun by placing a part of the money received from the sale of each lot into a trust fund. As the original volunteers grew old and themselves became tenants of Fairview, it grew more difficult for the Woman's Club to administer the cemetery. Most of the members had no kin buried at Fairview and they were the only Woman's Club in the state that had not relinquished its cemetery to a city or county entity.

In 1978 the Woman's Club deeded the cemetery to Santa Fe County, including the income from the perpetual care trust fund that had grown to about $100,000. The County agreed to maintain the grounds in exchange for ownership of the remaining plots in which to bury indigents: The County Commissioners had no idea of the job they were taking on, and within two years the condition of the cemetery had declined badly. In 1980 Marian Meyer, while doing research at Fairview, noted the deterioration of the cemetery. She wrote a community forum column for The New Mexican and began to receive offers of money from some of the old Santa Fe families. As a board member of the Santa Fe Historical Society, Meyer enlisted its support and the Fairview Cemetery Preservation Association was founded in 1981.

Currently, the Association oversees private burials and Santa Fe County handles indigent burials. In the seventeen years of its existence, the Association has received donations which have helped Santa Fe County to maintain the cemetery. Larger bequests have been used to install sprinkler systems in the cemetery and to initiate a renovation of the historic old fence. That work got underway in the summer of 1996, and was completed in the spring of 1997. A new and wider wrought iron gate was constructed to match the old smaller carriage gate given to the Woman's Board of Trade in 1903 by the Masonic Lodge after the Lodge had removed the old burials. The brick foundation was also renovated using original capstones supplemented by capstones that were carefully crafted to match.

In 1998 the County turned the Cemetery over to the Fairview Cemetery Preservation Association. The Association then became the sole owners and operators of the cemetery. Fairview must now become self-supporting. New plans include development of a ground burial cremains section, mapping of path spaces for full lots and a grant application will be made for columbariums. The County agreed to bring those areas of the property for which they have had primary responsibility up to a mutually acceptable standard and negotiations with Santa Fe County are complete. The house and storage building have been repaired. A new fence along the rear property line has been installed. Section I and the County areas of the cemetery have been cleaned up and reseeded.

"With this acquisition comes the challenge for each of us to gather our resources and energies so that we can effectively administer and preserve the integrity of this historical memorial to our ancestors for our descendants" said Bob Lawrence, President of the Association in February, 1998.

Independent Order of Odd Fellows Cemetery

Five members of the Order of Odd Fellows from England founded Washington Lodge No. 1 at Baltimore, MD on April 26, 1819. The Independent Order of Odd Fellows in North America (United States and Canada) became independent from the Order in England in 1834. It is a friendly benefit society formed in the first half of the 18th century. The name was adopted at a time when the severance into sects and classes was so wide that persons aiming at social union and mutual help were a marked exception to the general rule.

Beginning in the 1840s, there were several attempts to establish Odd Fellowship in the Western United States. Near the middle of the 19th century a warrant for the institution of the first lodge in the New Mexico Territory was issued by Grand Sire Griffin. The application was signed by Joseph D. Ellis, Horace L. Dickinson, Charles L. Spencer, Isidor Sanson, Robert Perry, Jacob Davidson and Robert Cary. The warrant was issued April 21, 1851. Montezuma Lodge No. 1 was instituted on July 19, 1851. Robert Cary was instituting officer. The first officers were: Horace L. Dickinson, clerk of the Supreme Court; George H. Estes, Attorney; Charles L. Spencer, a clerk; and Joseph Mercure, a merchant. A few weeks later on September 26, "the lodge buried William Curtis Skinner, a member of an eastern lodge, who was murdered in Santa Fe". This event presaged the need for a cemetery. The Odd Fellows and Masons joined in the purchase of land for a cemetery. It was incorporated by the Masons and Odd Fellows by an act of the Legislature on April 23, 1853. Early in 1852, a number of members of this lodge withdrew and organized a new lodge -- Paradise Lodge No. 2. Joseph D. Ellis instituted this new lodge. Known original members were: D. V. Whiting, Jno. G. Jones, Jas. E. Sabine, S. J. Spiegelberg, Isidore Hochstadter, Wendel Debus, Pinkney R. Tully and J. F. Beinker. The two lodges joined and erected a lodge temple. By 1906 this property was occupied by the convent of the Sisters of Loretto.

On April 28, 1853 Ridgely Encampment No. 1 was instituted. About the same time Bugle Lodge No. 3 was instituted at Fort Union. These five bodies, all working at the same time, constituted the pioneer group in advance of all other lodges instituted west of the Missouri River. (Another early Odd Fellows Lodge west of the Missouri River was established in Honolulu, Hawaii with the charter signed by King Kamehameha, the reigning monarch of the Sandwich Islands now the Hawaiian Islands).

The last meeting at Montezuma Lodge was April 20, 1859 as their charter was forfeited because they were so small. Paradise and Ridgely Encampment surrendered their charters at the same time. Paradise Lodge was revived December 19, 1859. In 1862-1865 it was closed because of the Civil War and revived again in 1865 with new members.

Little is known about many of the early burials in the Odd Fellows Cemetery as early records are missing. A map dated 1884 at the New Mexico State Records Center and Archives shows an early layout of the burial ground but gives little additional information.
